

Building Tolerance, Understanding and Dialogue across Communities

Project Summary

BOND (Building tolerance, uNderstanding and Dialogue across communities) promotes understanding, tolerance and dialogue, through a linked series of strategic educational and awareness-raising actions, online and on-site, and by facilitating interfaith and inter-cultural dialogue.

The project's major aim is to address deep-rooted prejudices and hateful attitudes and behaviours, specifically towards Jewish people in Europe, counter the dwindling knowledge about the Shoah, particularly among youth, and promote tolerance and understanding and dialogue across religious, ethnic and cultural groups in our society.

Bond will develop a testimonial-based curriculum and eLearning materials for students, train teachers on how to use the materials in their classrooms, and connect and empower youth across Europe to be multipliers and change-makers, carrying testimonial-based counter-narratives to their communities.

Project Objectives

FOSTER an evidence-based understanding of anti-Semitic trends, attitudes and behaviours over the last few decades, how that impacts the Jewish communities today, and how it relates to other forms of intolerance and hate-speech.

PROVIDE a high-quality, testimonial-based curriculum for High School students, to be widely distributed to and adopted by teachers and educators in the implementing countries.

TRAIN youth on the history, culture and inheritance of Jewish people in Europe, and strengthen their capacity to address commonly held anti-Semitic stereotypes, mis- and disinformation, conspiracy theories and prejudices.

BRIDGE the divide between Jewish and other religious and ethnic groups, by fostering open and safe dialogue and interaction, and building intergroup coalitions and strategies.
